Falls of the Ohio exhibit on Bird Watching

Eye on Birds

Through August 2, 2009, at the Falls of the Ohio Interpretive Center

Bird watching, always a favorite activity at the Falls, is now more popular than ever. Why is it a multi-billion dollar hobby? What are the essential tools of the hobby? How can you attract interesting birds to your yard? The exhibit focuses on bird watching and the nature of wild birds. Garrick Fields, a local top-notch bird photographer, has provided an extraordinary, close up view of a great variety of birds at the Falls, in the water and in the air. This is the second of two exhibits celebrating the bicentennial of John James Audubon at the Falls of the Ohio.

This exhibit is free with paid admission to the Interpretive Center. Admission Monday - Thursday is $4 for age 19 and over, $1 age 2 - 18 and under 2 is free. Friday – Sunday $5 for adults and $2 for children. The Center is open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday, Sunday from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.
